DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-3, 5-17, drawn to a magnetic separator comprising a magnetic means, deflector means comprising of a plunger, classified in class 210, subclass 695.
- II. Claims 4, drawn to a magnetic separator comprising a magnetic means, deflector comprising a stirrer, classified in class 422, subclass 50.
- III. Claims 18-25, drawn to a method for separating magnetic particles from a non-magnetic test medium, classified in class 436, subclass 526.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions (III and I) and (III and II) are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process.

(MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the method of invention III can be practiced with another materially different apparatus such as a magnet without the use of a deflector such as a plunger or a stirrer because if the sample mixture containing magnetic particles bound to the target molecules to be separated is put into a chamber and a magnet is applied outside the chamber at a certain part of the chamber, then the bound magnetic particles would be concentrated without the use of the deflector.

Art Unit: 1641

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to different apparatuses with different components. Invention I has a plunger or a non-magnetic plunger and invention II has a stirrer instead. The plunger forces the fluid to flow forward in one direction while the stirrer causes the fluid containing the target to move in circular motion. Thus, these components have different modes of operations and are not capable of use together.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II or III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
